

People come to God through other people.

Our faith grows by giving it away: if we don't give it away it will die.

La gente viene a Dios a través de otras personas.

Nuestra fe crece dándola: si no la damos, ella morirá.